A Letter for Your Family

July 2026

Dear Family,

Welcome to Little Hearts Learning Daycare! I am so happy you're here, and truly honored that you're trusting me with one of the most important parts of your life — your child.

Little Hearts started because I believe children deserve more than just supervision during the day. They deserve a second home: a place that's warm, safe, and genuinely theirs, where they're known by name, celebrated for who they are, and given room to play, wonder, and grow every single day.

Over the coming days and weeks, your child will settle into our routines, get to know our little community, and (I hope) start to light up a little when they pull into the driveway. For you, I want this to feel like a partnership from day one — I'll always be honest with you, I'll always be reachable, and I'll always have your child's best interest at the center of everything we do here.

This folder has a few things to help you get settled: what to expect on your first day, a quick-reference card for our hours and contact information, and a short “get to know your child” page so I can start learning what makes them, them.

If you ever have a question, a worry, or just want to talk — my door (and my phone) is always open.

Welcome to the family.

With warmth,

Mina Sreeves

What to Expect on Your First Day

You'll be greeted right here — every single day.

Before You Arrive

- Pack a labeled bag with a full change of clothes, diapers/wipes if needed, and a comfort item
- Bring any completed forms from your Parent Enrollment Binder, if not already turned in
- Feel free to bring a family photo — many of our little ones love having one nearby

At Drop-Off

- We'll do a quick wellness check-in and sign your child in for the day
- Take a few extra minutes on day one to help your child settle before you head out — a warm, calm goodbye helps far more than a quick slip-away
- It's completely normal for goodbyes to be a little hard at first. Most children settle within a few minutes of a parent leaving.

During the Day

- Your child will move through our normal daily rhythm — free play, learning centers, outdoor time, meals, and rest — outlined in full in your Parent Handbook
- You're always welcome to check in by phone or text

At Pick-Up

- We'll share a quick recap of your child's day
- Only individuals on your Authorized Pick-Up list will be able to take your child home, so let us know as early as possible about any changes

Every child adjusts differently — some settle in an afternoon, others take a couple of weeks. Please be patient with the process, and know we're adjusting right alongside your child.
